Gov. Schwarzenegger Issues Statement on Campaign for Effective Patient Care's Release of California Voter Poll

"Since taking office, I have been committed to improving the quality, transparency and accountability of health care in our state, and it is encouraging to see groups like Campaign for Effective Patient Care continue the discussion on health care reform with the poll released today. California patients clearly want to make informed choices when it comes to their health care and greater use of evidence-based medicine will allow them to make better informed decisions. Using reliable information that reflects current and valid science not only ensures effective care, it also helps to keep costs down – a critical piece of any public policy proposal to reform our health care system."
