

Campaign for
Effective Patient Care

Job Announcement Policy and Communications Specialist

The Campaign for Effective Patient Care (CEPC) seeks a Policy and Communications Specialist with experience in health policy, advocacy and media communications to coordinate the organization's communications work and Sacramento activities. The Policy and Communications Specialist will report to the Executive Director and will be based in Sacramento.

Primary Responsibilities

- Writing opeds, media releases, briefs, fact sheets and reports
- Identifying and cultivating opportunities to get CEPC's message in the media
- Releasing briefs and reports to the media
- Placing opeds
- Researching and assisting in the development of health policy
- Working with policymakers, staff and stakeholders to coordinate CEPC's Sacramento activities

Qualifications

- Excellent writing skills
- Excellent oral communication skills
- Proven ability to work with a broad range of people
- Experience with the legislative process
- Advocacy experience a plus
- Experience working with print, broadcast and internet media a plus
- Ability to work independently
- 3-5 years experience in health policy, advocacy and communications
- Graduate degree a plus

The Campaign for Effective Patient Care is a nonprofit education and advocacy organization formed in 2009. CEPC is committed to fostering policies that substantially increase the use of solid scientific evidence in the everyday practice of health care to assure patients receive the right care, at the right time and in the right place. We support policies that promote the use of up-to-date, trusted research so patients and their providers will make better, more informed decisions to improve patients' health and well being.

Compensation: The position pay range is $55,000 to $70,000 depending on experience, plus benefits.

The Campaign for Effective Patient Care is an Equal Opportunity Employer. To apply please email a cover letter, resume, short writing sample and three references from people who supervised your work to bgladstern@effectivepatientcare.org.